A Special Business District (SBD) is a unit of very local government that is authorized by state statute and instituted and operated by neighborhood residents. Once authorized by the city, an SBD is a separate legal entity.

- An SBD can impose taxes based on the assessed value of property within that neighborhood.
- In general, both revenues and expenditures are controlled by the neighborhood’s SBD rather than the city or state government.
- All revenue is reserved for and used only to benefit the neighborhood and only in the neighborhood.
- The revenues raised are designated by residents for specific public projects, such as neighborhood improvements and security.
- SBD is led by a seven member Board of Commissioners appointed by the mayor and term-limited.
The term “business district” is misleading, since both residential and commercial properties are taxed. Sections 71.790 to 71.808 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri govern SBDs.

Forming the SBD begins with submitting a petition to the city’s Board of Alderman. The Board of Alderman will hold public hearings on the matter which will lead to a creation of a city ordinance to place the matter before the proposed district’s voters in an election. Both registered voters and property owners within the district may vote on the matter.

The ordinance creating the SBD must specify what public projects the money is to be spent on as well as the time period in which the district must be renewed by voters (maximum of 10 years).

Community Improvement Districts are designed to help improve the community by bettering conditions for existing businesses, and attracting new growth.

The district boundaries are contiguous. Those properties within the CID share in both the costs and the benefits of the improvements and services provided.

The district is a separate legal entity, distinct and apart from the municipality that creates it.
There are two main types of CID in Missouri:

- Political subdivisions (which are funded by public money via sales tax and property assessments)
- Not-for-profits (which are funded by special assessments)
The district is created by petition, signed by property owners owning at least 51% of the assessed value of the real property, and more than 51% per capita of all owners of real property within the proposed CID.

Presented for authorizing ordinance to the governing body of the local municipality in which the proposed CID would be located.

Language contained in the petition narrative must include a five year plan, describing the purposes of the proposed district, the services it will provide, the improvements it will make and an estimate of the costs of those services and improvements, and the maximum rates of property taxes and special assessments that may be imposed within the proposed district.

Other information must state how the CID would be organized and governed, and whether the governing board would be elected or appointed.
BENEFITS OF A SPECIAL TAXING DISTRICT
WHY ARE SPECIAL TAXING DISTRICTS NEEDED?

- Dwindling resources and diminished public services.
  - Special Taxing Districts allow neighborhoods to enhance existing city services (Additional Security, cleanliness/beautification, etc.)
  - Special Taxing Districts allow neighborhoods to take on projects that the city couldn’t otherwise afford (Public Improvements, Neighborhood Marketing, etc.)

- Local control of decision making.
  - Special Taxing Districts allow local stakeholders to prioritize and control decisions regarding the taxes collected.
  - Special Taxing Districts’ board of commissioners are responsible and accountable for the expenditure of the taxes collected.
The Special Taxing District takes nothing away from the city. We achieve all these objectives without lessening the city’s tax base and without reducing funding for schools.

The Special Taxing District will enable our neighborhood’s residents, for the first time ever, to invest property tax dollars in neighborhood improvements rather than see them go outside the community.

The Special Taxing District will provide a stable, reliable, on-going source of the substantial funds we need for infrastructure improvements, maintenance, and security enhancements.

Because the Special Taxing District can work independently of many of the city’s public contracting regulations, individual projects will become much more cost effective.
HOW THE FUNDS CAN BE USED

PROJECTS
• public facilities or improvements
• landscaping, lawns, and trees
• sidewalks, streets, alleys, ramps, traffic signage
• parking lots and garages

SERVICES
• provision of security personnel
• provision of cleaning/maintenance to public and private property
• refuse collection and disposal
• business and special event marketing
• promote business retention and development
• contracting for economic, planning, and marketing studies
GOVERNANCE OF THE SPECIAL TAXING DISTRICT
WHO WILL GOVERN THE SBD?

- Seven Member Board of Directors
  - Made up of residential property owners, renters, commercial property owners, and business owners
- Appointed by the mayor and approved by Board of Alderman
- The petition which creates the SBD determines the qualifications of the directors beyond the basic mandatory requirements or two renters and five property owners (i.e. geographic distribution, type of renter, type of owner, etc.)
- Think about what your board would look like:
  - Which stakeholder groups should be represented?
  - How many of each type of stakeholder?
The activities CID are guided by a Board of Directors, which is comprised of business and commercial property owners throughout the district.

The board acts as both ambassadors and active promoters of the area and its offerings. In addition to this governance group

The CID meets with the stakeholders to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas, voicing of concerns and collaboration on efforts between the merchants and community.
